Introduce

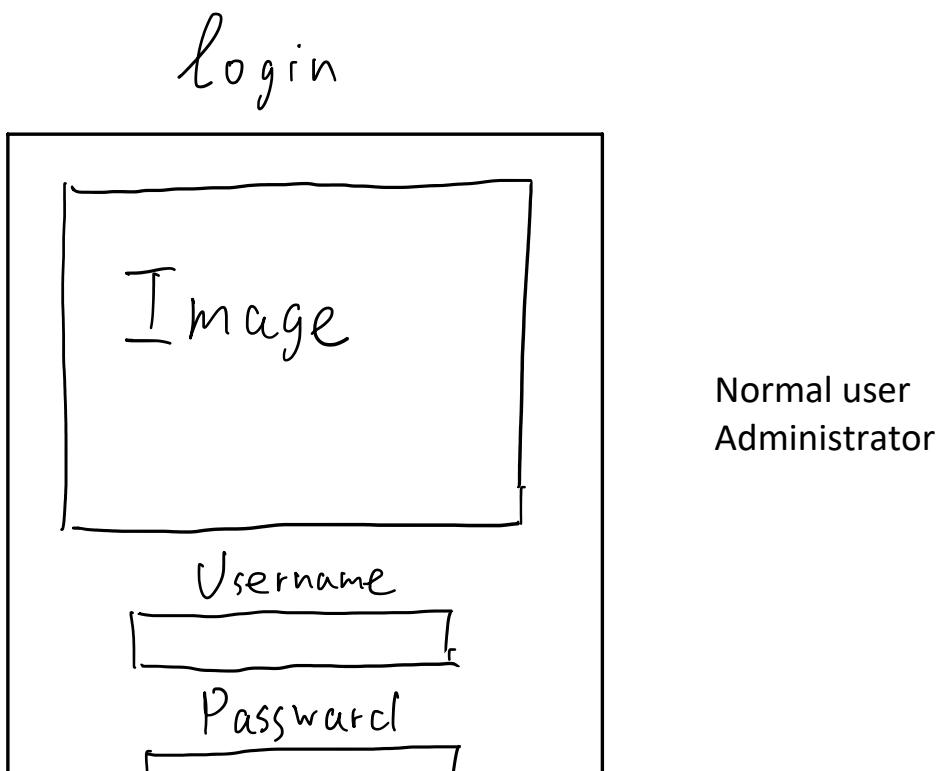

We will develop a forum app for gamers to share their gaming experience.

Each user can make posts, and each post has a tag indicating which game or type of game.

When users want to browse the posts in the app, they can choose to only view posts related to a specific game. They can like and comment on posts.

Users can also follow post creators or be friend with them. After being friends, they can message each other via private chat.

Each user can only delete their own posts. An administrator can delete any posts.
